

8 SENATE SEATS, 50 IN THE HOUSE, SWAY IN BALANCE

These Will Be Decided at Elections to Be Held in November

PROHIBITION THE ISSUE

Both Parties Are Divided Over the Liquor Issue

By George R. Holmes
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The extent to which the sharp knife of prohibition has cut across political lines and buried itself deep in the vitals of both major parties was revealed here today when, with primaries and nominating conventions virtually concluded, leaders estimated that no less than eight Senate seats and approximately fifty House seats probably will be decided in November on the basis of the wet-and-dry issue alone.

This is by far the greatest number of clear-cut prohibition fights that any election has witnessed since the adoption of the 18th amendment. It is eloquent testimony, too, to the growing popular concern over prohibition.

With both parties split on the issue, the survey made since the conclusion of the primaries reveals that, generally speaking, it has been the Democrats who have been holdest about grabbing the wet end of the prohibition stick.

This is particularly true of the Senatorial contests. Of the eight listed wherein prohibition is accounted the chief or deciding issue, the Democrats are wet in six and dry in two. In Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusetts, Delaware and Rhode Island, the Democratic aspirants are opposed to prohibition.

In Montana and Colorado, the Democrats are rated dry, although Walsh in Montana has modified his stand to say he will be guided by the wishes of his constituents.

Only three Republican Senatorial candidates are considered openly and avowedly against prohibition—Morrow in New Jersey, Shaw in Colorado, and Galen in Montana. There are some others, however, like Davis in Pennsylvania, and Couzens in Michigan, who might be considered on the border-line, neither has taken a very positive stand on the issue.

The association against the prohibition amendment, organized and financed on a permanent basis after the 1928 election, "points with pride" to the fomenting of so many clear-cut contests in the forthcoming election.

The association, non-political or rather bi-partisan, has modeled its effort somewhat after those of its dry rival, the Anti-Saloon League, by going out into congressional districts and state contests and encouraging wet candidates to oppose dries.

It has been the League's boast for years that it made it "politically unsafe to be wet." The association, proceeding on the same line, is endeavoring to make it equally as politically unsafe to be dry.

In the primary campaigns just ended it has without exception supported the wet candidate irrespective of party.

It will do so in the approaching election in November. Where both candidates are wet, as in the New Jersey Senate contest, and in many congressional districts in the east, the association keeps hands off, as has been the policy of the league where both candidates have been dry.

Leaders in the association confidently predict a gain of 35 to 40 seats for the wets in the House. Republican and Democratic leaders are privately inclined to view this as a fair estimate. Some think it will be larger.

In the present congress, the wets claimed to have a bloc of nearly 100 votes which they could muster on a given show-down. Because of the conditions arising out of the 1928 election, and the immense Republican majority, this wet strength was considered abnormally. With the off-year swing toward normalcy, if the wets can make good their prediction of picking up some 35 to 40 seats, there appears to be a strong prospect of the 72nd Congress containing a formidable and probably an exceedingly militant wet-bloc—by no means approaching a majority, but still strong enough to make things interesting for the dry majority.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leatham, of Brookline, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Leatham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doron Green, of Radcliffe street.

Second Arrest Made In Shooting Affair

A second arrest has been made in connection with the shooting of an alleged hold-up man by State Police along "Lovers' Lane," Street Road, near Trevores early yesterday morning.

Those taken into custody in connection with the affair are:
Sigmund (Siggy) Walzeykowski, 28, 3011 Livingston street, Philadelphia.
James Logles, 20, Cambria street, Philadelphia.

Walzeykowski was arrested yesterday afternoon at his home by Trooper Greblunas. It is alleged that Walzeykowski was with Frank P. Pattaccio, 19, Somerset street, near Richmond, Philadelphia, when he was shot and killed by Corporal Francis, James McGuin and Peter Grubunas, State Police, Doylestown barracks.

Logles, owner of the automobile which police say the bandits used in many hold-ups, is being held as a material witness.

A Philadelphia undertaker yesterday went to Doylestown to get the body of Pattaccio, but District Attorney Eastburn would not permit its release, holding it for further identification. Dr. John J. Sweeney, Bucks County coroner, held an autopsy on the body and found that a bullet had gone clear through the victim. The revolver said to have been used by Pattaccio has not yet been located.

TO RESUME SEWING

The Edgely Branch of the Needlework Guild will resume sewing on Tuesday, September 23rd, at 2 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes, Edgely.

FERGUSONVILLE CASE COMES BEFORE COURT

Neighborly Fracas Leads To Charge and Arrest of Man

SAYS HATCHET USED

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 19.—A neighborly fracas was aired in the Court here when two residents of Fergusonville, a village near Newportville and a short distance from Bristol came to trial.

The principal characters in the case were Mrs. George F. Siebel, the prosecutrix, and Clinton C. Brown, the defendant, who live on adjoining lots in the village.

"On July 17, my sister-in-law, Mrs. Cassidy, and myself returned home from swimming," testified the prosecutrix, "and from the kitchen window saw Mr. Brown, with whom we had never been very friendly, measuring on the border line of our adjoining properties. When I saw him step over onto our land, I ran out and asked him what the idea was, and from where he was stooped down about to drive in this stake he swung his hatchet around cutting me on the leg."

Here was an indictment on the two counts of aggravated assault and battery and assault and battery.

She showed the jury, a scar on her leg, above the ankle, the cause of which she explained in her testimony, but which the defendant alleges that she received from falling on the stake after she had jumped on his back while he was driving the stake in question into the corner of what he claims as the boundary of his property.

The two other witnesses for the prosecution were the prosecutrix's sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Cassidy, who was a witness and corroborated the statements made by Mrs. Siebel, and Officer William Keech, who arrested Brown following the alleged assault.

Witnesses called by the defense, all living in the vicinity of Newportville, neighbors to both Mrs. Siebel and Mr. Brown, did not give any enlightening testimony. Those put on the stand were: Mrs. Estella Shin, Mrs. Ida Perpetti, Mrs. Anna Snyder, Mrs. Harry Brown and Harry Brown.

This trial occupied nearly all the afternoon in Court Room No. 2 session. The jury was not charged until yesterday.

Today is Last to Enroll As Beginners in Schools

Friday, September 19th, is the last day for beginning pupils who are six years of age on or before January 1, 1931, to enroll in the Bristol public schools.

It will not be possible to have a second enrollment of beginners this year as there is no more room available to accommodate them.

The next period for enrollment of beginners will be September, 1931.

DIES IN HOSPITAL

Lawrence Whyno, the year old son of Mr. Charles Whyno, of 239 Penn street, died yesterday in a Philadelphia hospital. Burial will be held tomorrow in St. Mark's Cemetery.

HERE AND THERE THRUOUT BUCKS COUNTY

Harold S. Speechley, of Philadelphia, Weds Miss Evelyn Margerum, of Morrisville—Miss Margaret Hughes, Morrisville, Slightly Burned by Lightning—Perkasie-Sellersville School is Almost Completed.

Miss Evelyn M. Margerum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Margerum, of Grove street, Morrisville, and Harold S. Speechley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stamford Speechley, of Philadelphia, were married Wednesday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church, at Morrisville. The wedding took place at 5.30 o'clock. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Leonard V. C. Myton, officiated. The church was made beautiful with palms, ferns and flowers.

The bride was charming in a gown of ivory satin. Her veil was caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Reba Margerum, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of green granada crepe. She wore a large picture hat of brown velvet and green slippers and carried tall-man roses. The bridesmaids were: Mrs. Joseph Rupert, Miss Victoria Cichon, Miss Ellen Burns, Miss Lucilla Margerum. Their gowns were mellow granada crepe. They wore large picture hats of brown velvet and mellow slippers and carried Joanna Hill roses. Herman Margerum, Jr., a brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were: Joseph A. Heenan, Jerome L. Wallis, Joseph Rupert and J. Morris Servis.

Little Claire Heenan, niece of the bride, was flower girl and she was dressed in a frock of georgette crepe. The bride's mother wore a gown of black chiffon with a corsage of roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of black georgette with corsage of rosebuds and lilies-of-the-valley.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple left after the reception on their honeymoon.

Miss Margaret Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Hughes, of 343 Crown street, Morrisville, was slightly burned on the arm by a bolt of lightning Tuesday night. Miss Hughes was in the living room of their home seated beside a bridge lamp and the lightning after entering the house, seemed to jump from the bridge lamp to her arm.

The lightning first struck in the backyard of the home of William Curtin on East Palmer street. It then entered the home of Eric Donelson next door at 28 East Palmer street and here the radio was put out of commission. The bolt then seemed to follow the electric line to 351 Crown street, the home of Leroy Hughes, which is nearly where the electric stove was put out of commission. It next entered the Hughes home next door where Miss Hughes was burned.

Work on the new Perkasie-Sellersville Consolidated School continues uninterrupted although classes are being held in the building.

The auditorium has been practically completed with the exception of the permanent seats which have not arrived. The main hall of the auditorium together with the gallery will have a total seating capacity of 432 pupils. For such events as commencement and plays the gymnasium and the hall between may be added to the auditorium by opening huge tiers of folding doors, which will give a seating capacity of more than 1200. Also for such events, the study hall on the platform which is enclosed by folding doors also can be thrown into a huge stage with two medium sized class rooms for the use as dressing rooms.

On Tuesday painters finished placing the lines for basketball on the gymnasium floor and oiled the floor, getting it ready for use.

Continuation school started on Thursday morning. More than fifty pupils are already enrolled and it is expected that the total number will exceed sixty by the time enrollment is complete.

Departing from the usual procedure of putting an ordinance into effect, Perkasie Council in special session introduced and at the same time passed an ordinance which will provide for the laying of sidewalks and paving Fifth street from Park avenue to the Sellersville borough line, a distance of about four blocks. The ordinance calls for the completion of the work in 30 days.

Local students attending the Perkasie-Sellersville Joint High School were compelled to wade through mud and small pools of water or to walk in a field of high grass in order to reach the school because of the unimproved street which at present is little more than a by-road.

TULLYTOWN BOASTS OF BUILDING & LOAN ASS'N

Wm. Penn Mutual Building & Loan Association Was Organized in 1873

A LIST OF ITS OFFICERS

Herewith is presented the third installment of an interesting article written by a staff representative of the Courier. It deals with Tullytown Borough and relates much of interest which has occurred in the past, facts of the present and indicates some of the things which might be expected in the future for the Borough which is the subject of the article.

By Staff Correspondent

TULLYTOWN, Sept. 19.—Too much credit cannot be given to the residents of this economic town, who are industrious, thrifty, and ever looking ahead. Since the year 1873 the William Penn Mutual Building and Loan Association has assisted many to save money, much of which has been used to purchase homes. It is stated by good authority that there are several houses in the borough that have been purchased five or six times in the course of the association through the building and loan method.

Prosperity in the section increased gradually, although steadily, until this recent short business slump, and dozens of families used the William Penn Association as a means of placing aside a portion of their earnings. When the William Penn Association commenced its operations it ran out the first series in a ten year period, and did not commence the second series until the first had expired. The first series was conducted without one cent of expense. Older residents recall how some men, earning at that time but $30 per month, supported a family, and carried 15 shares of building and loan stock.

The association officers gathered for business meetings and to receive shares' payments in many places in the town. Cullen's Shop, Red Men's Hall, the village hotel room, were three favorite meeting places; but of late how some men, earning at that place at the private office of W. Lovett Leigh at his Main street residence. "Year ago," said one who has been acquainted with the conducting of the business of the organization for some years, "those meetings were a nightmare in summertime with cigar smoke adding to the heat, and it was also a nightmare in winter when some of the buildings happened to be cold." Sometimes there would be as high as 25 spectators at these sessions years ago.

Trust held by the share-holders in the association is said by those acquainted with same to be marvelous. It is stated that some do not have pass-books, having lost or mislaid same, and yet when the money is sent by the youngsters, in will run a tot to the meeting room, call out "Here's Pop's" as the money is laid on the table, and hurry out the door. Frequently an officer or director finds it necessary to hastily reach the door to call after the boy or girl and ask who "Pop" is.

The officers of the association are: A. Brock Shoemaker, president; H. H. Burton, treasurer; W. Lovett Leigh, secretary. Mr. Leigh has acted in the SHANGHAI, Sept. 19.—The Peiping Government, a stumbling block for the past year and a half to the Nanking Government, collapsed today with the resignation of its leader, General Yen Hsi-Shan, according to authentic information received from the northern capital.

NEWARK, Sept. 19.—Thomas A. Edison, who never has been up in an airplane, and who is not going to risk it until the two jobs he is working on are safely completed, went so far yesterday, however, as to take a ground course in flying. And he was able to give his instructor a few pointers at that.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 19.—Defeated in his fifth attempt to regain for Britain the America's cup, Sir Thomas Lipton has abandoned his fruitless quest.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 19.—In the sunset years of his career, three years beyond what army and navy regulations prescribe as Man's allotted period of usefulness in the services, Connie Mack, at sixty-seven, is at the helm of his eighth American League championship team.

The attenuated leader of the Athletics, who yesterday downed the Chicago White Sox 14-10 to win their second straight pennant, was showered with congratulations today. He bears the honors modestly with no outward signs of being excited. He remains the same calm, cool, level-headed Cornelius McGillicuddy, the genius of the baseball world.

Edgely Woman Injured When Cars Hit on Bridge

EDGELEY, Sept. 19.—An automobile driven by William Riccardi, Edgely, and a truck driven by James Loch, Fallington, collided on the canal bridge at Headley Manor shortly before noon today.

The two machines collided and the impact threw Mrs. Riccardi, who accompanied her husband, against the windshield.

Mrs. Riccardi was taken to the Harriman Hospital and treated for lacerations of the face and left leg.

ELECTRIC RATES HIGH SAY BUSINESS MEN

Name Committee to Look Into What Other Towns Are Paying

DISCUSS OTHER TOPICS

Members of the Mill Street Business Men's Association protested about the apparent increase in electric rates for commercial houses in Bristol, at the opening fall meeting of that body, held last night in their headquarters in the Proby building.

President Eastburn told the members that officials of the Philadelphia Electric Company were in Bristol explaining the reason for the advance in cost of power. They attributed it to the increase in electrical appliances installed, such as radios, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, electric fans and heater blowers now found in the homes of many storekeepers, and that both stores and dwellings were on one meter, thus having both rated as commercial establishments.

A committee of five was appointed to meet the Electric Company officials and to also make a survey of other towns in the Philadelphia suburbs to compare their rates with those existing here.

Mr. Eastburn also asked the members to exercise more care in tying up waste paper on collection days, thus assuring a cleaner business section. He also urged the business men to attend the meetings of the association this fall and winter as a number of ideas for the good of Mill street were going to be put forth.

Plans are to be made to co-operate with the Burlington Chamber of Commerce in celebrating the opening of the new Burlington-Bristol bridge, which is rapidly nearing completion. The next meeting of the association will be held on Thursday, October 16.

Recover Stolen Car Park on Wood Street

The police recovered an automobile here last night which was stolen in Philadelphia, September 11th.

The car, a new Hudson, was parked on Wood street just off Mill street, Tuesday morning and had been standing there ever since.

Last night at about 8.30 Charles Everhart walked into the police station and informed the officers that a new Hudson sedan had been parked on Wood street, opposite where he drove into his garage, since Tuesday morning, "and that car has not moved an inch," said Everhart.

The license was checked and it was found that it belonged to Robert M. Katz, 4113 Cambridge street, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia police were called and they stated that the car had been reported stolen on Monday.

The machine was towed to a local garage and today will be turned over to the owner.

Fitzgerald Released Under Heavy Bail

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 19.—James V. Fitzgerald, of Durham Locks, who was convicted last week in Judge Hiram H. Keller's court on charges of robbery, larceny and receiving stolen goods, was released today under $12,000 bail furnished by Justin N. Ely, of this place.

Fitzgerald, whose attorney applied for a new trial, was one of three defendants arrested in connection with a hold-up near the Narrows Hotel on July 24 when $60 was stolen from an Allentown ice cream truck driver.

BENSALEM CHURCH TO HAVE 119TH ANNIVERSARY

Speakers of Merit Will Address Congregation on Sunday, September 21st

PLAN THREE SERVICES

The 119th anniversary of "old Bensalem" Methodist Episcopal Church is to be observed on Sunday next, September 21st, when speakers of merit, men well-known in the Philadelphia M. E. Conference, will deliver sermons.

Three services are being arranged for by the present pastor, Rev. W. H. A. Williams, and a group of assistants, members of the church.

Superintendent of the North District, Philadelphia conference, Dr. Thomas H. Evans, is scheduled to occupy the pulpit at the morning service at 10.45 o'clock. At that time the congregation of the Neshaminy M. E. Church, Hulmeville, will join the Bensalem folks, and the Hulmeville Church choir will give selections.

As is the custom each year on the anniversary occasion, Bensalem folks will serve a lunch to visiting people at noon in the social hall next to the church edifice. This will enable many former members and members and friends who live at a distance, to remain for the services throughout the day; and will likewise provide for all an opportunity of meetings old friends and church co-workers.

In the afternoon at 2.45 o'clock, Rev. J. H. Barnes, pastor of the Tacony M. E. Church, and at one time in charge of the Bensalem and Hulmeville churches, will deliver the sermon. The choir of the Cornwells Heights Methodist Church, will have musical numbers to give in the afternoon.

At 7.45 p. m., Dr. H. M. Snyder, of the Department of Religious Education at Temple University, Philadelphia, will be present, having an interesting and helpful message. The Cornwells church choir will also sing at this service.

Bensalem church has on its membership list many men and women who have been affiliated with the congregation for many decades. Annually people come from near and far to be present at the anniversary services.

A cafeteria supper is being arranged by the members of the Ladies' Aid of the church, this to be served in the social hall on the church property on Saturday evening, September 20th.

BUCKINGHAM MAN GETS JAIL TERM AND $200 FINE

Third Appearance Before The Court for Willard Smith on Drunken Driver Charge

ONE BLAMES THE CAR

James Molla, Trenton, Says His Machine Acted Funny Sometimes

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 19.—"I didn't think I would get drunk so quick," said Willard Smith, Buckingham, when Judge Calvin S. Boyer asked him why he took some drinks while at the home of a friend when he was still faced with the responsibility of driving his family, an aged father, his wife and three small children, safely back to their home on the Doylestown pike about one-fourth of a mile west of Buckingham.

Smith changed his plea to guilty, after the Commonwealth's witness, Officer Riley Fitzsimmons, of the State Highway Patrol, told how he had arrested the defendant as he was driving his car towards his home just outside of Buckingham, on June 27, after he had seen the car running slowly and jerking nearly in the ditch on the right hand side of the highway, and that when he took the defendant out of his car he was intoxicated.

In pronouncing the sentence of one year of imprisonment in the county jail and a $200 fine and costs, Judge Boyer said: "It is my duty to sentence you thus. The highway will be that much safer to drive on for the period of one year."

The Commonwealth brought out that this was Smith's third offense and his third appearance in the local court. Twice before he had been fined $200.

In another case of the same type in Court Room No. 2, John Pizzant, State Highway Patrolman, of South Langhorne sub-station, testified that the car driven by the defendant was zig zagging from side to side on the Lincoln Highway near Trevores and he further stated, "He was so drunk he could hardly stand, so I carried him into the office of Dr. Fred Wagner, Bristol, where he saluted the doctor with, 'Good morning, Judge.'"

The defendant, James Molla, Trenton, N. J., replied to the officer's statement with: "I had only been drinking hard cider and as for the car acting funny, I guess maybe it did as it is a 1921 model and the steering gear don't always work just right."

The jury returned in about five minutes after the case had closed with a verdict of guilty. Judge Boyer deferred sentence until later.

Wasyli Sitaraki, proprietor of the Blooming Glen Hotel, which had been raided on more than one occasion by State Police, pleaded guilty before Judge Hiram H. Keller to a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor at the place. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs and a prison sentence of two months was suspended.

Henry J. Criscuolo, former proprietor of the Brick Hotel, Newtown, and his bartender, Joseph Christy, pleaded guilty before Judge Keller to possessing intoxicating liquor when it was raided recently by State Police. Criscuolo was fined $250 and costs and Christy was fined $100 and costs.

Joseph Teleky, Bethlehem, owner of the Narrows Hotel, who was tried before a jury in Judge Boyer's court, was convicted of possessing liquor at the hotel. Joseph Sigmund, of Bethlehem, who was found behind the bar when the place was raided, recently pleaded guilty. Judge Keller deferred sentence.

Maurice Green, of Edgely, who was arrested in Bristol for operating his automobile while drunk, was fined $200 and costs by Judge Keller. Another motorist, Walter G. Pearson, of Trenton, paid a similar fine for driving while drunk in Bristol. Both men pleaded guilty. During the present term of court ten motorists arrested in Bristol for drunken driving have been before the court for sentence.

Fred Keeler and Hugh Ruane, arrested in a raid on the Pembroke Inn, Oxford Valley, pleaded guilty to a charge of selling and possessing intoxicating liquor. The defendants operated a gasoline station and eating place. State Police testified that they purchased beer and saw whiskey sold in the place. Judge Keller fined both defendants $250 and costs and suspended a 30-day prison sentence.

Archey D. Newkirk, of Bristol, charged with aggravated assault and battery and assault and battery by automobile in Newtown, was acquitted by direction of Judge Keller, but the case went to the jury to dispose of the costs.

Joseph Latko, of Montgomeryville, and John Buck and Awika Stassick, of Philadelphia, who pleaded guilty last week to manufacture and possession of liquor on a farm near Bodminster Center when it was raided by State Police, were each fined $100 and costs. The owner of the farm, Stassick's father, is being sought by the police.

ART IN INDUSTRY

Industry, science and commerce have been so preoccupied with being useful that they have given little thought to the beauty which might be theirs. An exclusively pragmatic philosophy has animated their activities. When an occasional artist has been moved to exclaim at the precise and superhuman beauty of some mechanical device, the practical inventors or users of the machinery have been moved to laughter.

But the marvels of mechanical ingenuity which daily grow more numerous and more wonderful are having their effect on sensitive, imaginative people, with resulting changes in the art that they produce. At last industry has begun to notice what is going on.

One of the first signs of recognition was the invasion of art galleries and museums by commercial designers. In the art of the ancients they found inspiration for modern designs for silks, gowns, jewelry, furniture and many other necessities of the modern world.

Artists, architects, art lovers, manufacturers, merchants and civic leaders are interesting themselves in this effort to bring art and trade together in conscious harmony. These are the people who are showing the most initiative in effecting the desired union, but there are hundreds of thousands of workers in many trades and industries seeking to make of their work an art and to give beauty as well as utility to the products of their labors.

THE MARTYR COMPLEX

Few things are so enjoyable to weak natures as a martyrdom that doesn't cost much in time, money or pain.

It is commonly supposed that martyrdom of this kind is an evidence of unselfishness, but, as a matter of fact, it is no more than a cheap method of stroking the ego.

The weak who are not abnormally vain may be content with self-pity, but the combination of weakness and vanity demands sympathy. Sympathy is its bread and meat. It purrs with delight under the stroking hand of pity.

Why do the weak and vain continue to make conversation of their afflictions? Because those who have sympathy to give become callous and forget. They must be reminded that sympathy is desired.

To the member of a household who is addicted to martyrdom the pains and afflictions of others seem an encroachment upon his or her privileges.

The martyr complex troubles nearly all people to some extent. What man, holding forth concerning a tooth that troubles him, enjoys having another interrupt with a tale of his own toothache? What individual speaking about his operation, does not feel a little offended when another has the nerve to pretend that his own operation was more serious?

Martyrdom cannot tolerate competition, because its roots are in vanity. It wishes to occupy the center of a stage that contains no other object to share the attention of the audience. As the cause for this common garden variety of martyrdom is a desire for sympathy, the cure for it is a lack of sympathy.

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO.

WE GUARANTEE SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK

S EARS-ROEBUCK celebrates its 44th Anniversary by bringing the American public the greatest values in the company's career of value-giving. The entire outputs of factories have been taken . . . profits have been cut . . . every step has been taken to provide economies that will demonstrate anew Sears' ability to serve you in a way that other stores merely hope to approach.

In 1886, Richard Sears, station master at North Redwood, Minn., laid the humble foundation of this business by selling watches to fellow workers. Today Sears-Roebuck is the largest retail merchandise organization in the world, its name a household word. This tremendous growth is the result of the company's steadfast effort to develop the best ways of serving your interests—first quality merchandise . . . guaranteed satisfaction . . . economical distribution . . . consistently lower prices.

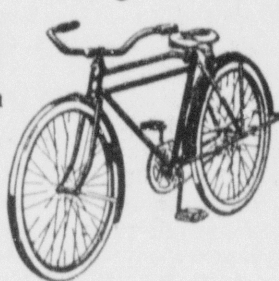

Every item here is worthy of "BIG DISPLAY"! Nor are all of our specials advertised . . . many exceptional items were crowded out . . . and some of the best values of all arrived at the "eleventh hour," too late to be advertised.

capacity of secretary for approximately 40 years.

The William Penn Association is one of the largest in Bucks County, having about 900 stockholders, and approximately 10,000 shares.

Among its older institutions Tullytown has two churches; and a third place of worship, a small chapel was started nine years ago.

One of the older churches is the Tullytown Christian Church, erected in 1822. This stone structure, located on the northern end of Main street, has a membership of about 92. The pastor is the Rev. William P. Young, of Burlington, who has acted in that capacity for the past three years. Three services take place each Sunday, preaching service and Sunday School in the morning hours, and preaching service at night. Prayer meeting is also conducted each Wednesday evening.

Organizations of the Christian Church include: Board of Trustees; Cemetery Board; Sunday School Board; Official Board; Ladies' Aid Society; Brotherhood, and Epworth League. Rev. Young is president of the Official Board; Mrs. William Wright heads the Ladies' Aid; Otis Harrington is president of the Brotherhood, and Miss Esther Abrams presides over the Epworth League. In the community house, a frame building at the front of the church property, many suppers, socials, etc., are held.

The second church of the town is the Manning Memorial M. E. Church, located on Main street. Rev. W. A. Lewis is the present pastor.

The church was organized in a hall by Rev. Joseph F. Cook in 1873. The first and present church edifice was erected and dedicated in 1874. The dedication service was in charge of Bishop Matthew Simpson.

The parsonage, which is next to the church, was erected in 1918.

The present pastor of the church is the Rev. Willis A. Lewis, Ph. D., D. D., who began his pastorate at Tullytown in March of the present year.

The following are the members of the Official Board: E. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlin, Mrs. H. L. Moon, Mr. H. L. Moon, Miss Anna Wright, Miss Rose Wright, John Manning, Mrs. Alice Burton, Mrs. Bertha Carson, Miss Mary Myers, Mrs. Elvira Gillingham, Mrs. Margaret Swangler, Mrs. Vera Baker, Mrs. Etta Maybury, Mrs. Florence Allen and Ralph Roberts, superintendent of the Sunday School, and Mrs. H. Mitchell, president of the Ladies' Aid Society.

The membership of the church is fifty-eight. The hours for regular church services are as follows: Preaching at 8 p. m. each Sunday; Sunday School at 2:15 p. m., each Sunday.

Nine years ago, or in 1921, a Roman Catholic chapel became the place of worship for twenty or more Italian families in the Tullytown section. This chapel, a frame building, owned by the Brennan family, is located on the highway. Priests from St. Ann's Catholic Church, Bristol, have each Sunday and on holidays conducted masses there.

Public schools, as in all places, play an important part in the life of the families in Tullytown. There are two structures connected with the Tully-town public school system, one of stone containing two rooms, and the second of frame having one room.

The teachers in charge of the three rooms of pupils, ranging from the first to the eighth grades are: Principal, George Itery; Miss Mary Leonard, and Miss Marian Wells.

The stone school building was the first to be erected, this bearing the dates 1845 and 1856. The two structures are located on the eastern side of Main street at the northern portion of the borough.

The school board is composed of: Maurice White, president; Charles Carson, treasurer; Roy Lovett, George Baker; with William R. Garretson as secretary.

GAS

Complexions breathe more freely in the cleanliness of a gas-heated home.

The daily dusting requires less elbow grease.

China and silverware are guarded from grime and rapid tarnish.

Baby's health is better in the house free from dust and grime.

Fabrics and hangings last longer because kept cleaner.

STUDY the five small sketches above. They will give you a glimpse into the wonderful Cleanliness advantages of Gas House Heat! Add to this, the fact that a clean good-looking Gas House-

Heating Cabinet in your cellar banishes the bother of furnace tending and fuel supplies forever... and who would not sit down and do some tall thinking about Automatic Gas Heat?

AT THIS TIME our heating experts are making many surveys in homes to let owners know just exactly what it would cost to heat their homes with gas. As a rule they are agreeably surprised at the low cost. Why not find out about your home... with no obligation whatsoever! Telephone or write for a prompt call.

SPORTS

HEADLEY DECLARED QUOIT CHAMPION HERE

Jess Headley has been proclaimed the single championship quoit pitcher of Bristol, after defeating each of his opponents.

Headley pitched the finals against Russell Barton.

The scores in the finals were: First game, Barton, 13; Headley, 15; second game, Barton, 15; Headley, 19; third game, Barton, 11; Headley, 15.

On Sunday afternoon, September 21, the championship double team will be decided upon. All players are asked to report at Leedom's field at 1 p. m.

COACH STAGG'S WORRY IS TO DEVELOP LINE

This is the first of a series of articles by Leo Fischer, International News Service sports authority, on prospects of the various big ten football teams.

By Leo Fischer
I. N. S. Sports Writer
CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—A splendid old gentleman named A. A. Stagg, although his difficulties have been mounting year by year, has started his thirty-ninth season on the midway just as optimistic and cheerful as he used to be in those golden days of Chicago football when heroes like Herschberger, Eckersall, Steffen, Russell, Norgren and others of that type held forth.

Coach Stagg's biggest worry seems to be the development of a half-way respectable line in time for the Wisconsin game, less than three weeks away. Two guards and an end from last year's eleven constitute his "veterans" for the forward wall, and it requires no great stretch of imagination to realize how tragic may be the showing of a light green line such as he must depend upon.

Back of the line, things are a little brighter. The four remaining veterans are augmented by a good crop of sophomores who seem quite capable of absorbing Coach Stagg's tricky and complicated offensive style.

Chicago's team will probably be the lightest in the conference, with the situation made doubly hard by lack of substitutes. Three intersectional games are on the difficult maroon schedule, which also includes four Conference contests.

TORRESDALE MANOR

Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, of River road, entertained Mr. Moore's brother from Philadelphia on Sunday. Master Richard Rossbauer, of State road, celebrated his fourth birthday on Saturday last.

Miss Barbara Engle, of Walnut avenue, has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hare, of Yonkers, N. Y., for an extended visit.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Foster, of Locust avenue, who are celebrating their sixteenth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Bond and family, of Torresdale, visited Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Stevenson, of Locust avenue, on Thursday.

Mr. Robert Miller, of Hatfield, formerly of Torresdale Manor, was down for a visit, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rossbauer, of State road, entertained their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Linde, and daughter Marjorie, of Norwood, recently.

PLAYERS TO REPORT

All players of the Bristol-St. Ann's football team are requested to report on St. Ann's field this evening at 6.15.
